The Buddy home return service is performed by our in-house concierge team, and we do not use postal or courier services. We service geographic areas on different days of the week, and your return will be scheduled for the day that we service your area.

We do our very best to accommodate your availability, but where the time slot we provide is not convenient for you, this could lead to delays.

Our products are crafted with care in our Sydney studio. Each piece may vary in size, colour, and texture, and the occasional air bubble may occur. This reflects the individual and handmade nature of our pieces and should be embraced.
